<sup>2</sup> B EC 341: Principles of Marketing, B EC 342: Management, and B EC 367: Principles of Finance can be taken in any order.

<sup>4</sup> 10 credit hours of electives are required for the Business-Economics major. These are courses designated as either B EC or ECON courses.

-Economics and BEC courses tend to fill quickly. It's very common for our majors to focus on their general education courses in their first two years and take lots of courses for their Business-Econ major in their third and fourth years. The first two years are also a good time to take supporting courses in fields like mathematics, statistics, computer science, and communications if students aren't getting into their first-choice Business-Econ classes.
